1967 PHILADELPHIA

#52 Bob Hayes

The set contains 198 standard-sized cards. The card backs contain a trivia question on the left that require rubbing a coin to reveal the answer. On the right you will find player information. This would be the company's last issue and can easily be identified from the previous sets by the yellow border. Each team has an insignia card with team information on the back.

1968 TOPPS

#77 Dan Reeves

The two series set contains 219 standard-sized cards. This set is Topps' first to include players from both leagues in seven years. The backs contain statistics and highlights along with a rub-off cartoon. Card backs in the first series have green print while the second series print is blue. Some card backs in the second series can be used to form a ten card puzzle of Bart Starr or Len Dawson. Cards in the second series (132-219) are more difficult to find.
